What were the Fund's costs for the last year?

(based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

Class Name	Costs of a $10,000 investment	Costs paid as a percentage of a $10,000 investment
Class C Shares	$325	3.18%

How did the Fund perform during the reporting period?

The Fund's Class C Shares returned +4.47% during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2024 (the "Investment Period"). The Fund invests primarily in legacy non-agency Residential Mortgage Backed Securities ("RMBS") and other asset backed securities ("ABS") which we believe have an attractive fundamental backdrop.

The Investment Period was generally good for fixed income, with interest rates (as measured by the yield of 10-Year US Treasuries) moving from 4.68% on 10/02/2023 to 3.78% on 09/30/2024. This decline in interest rates generally lifted fixed income securities. Although, it was a somewhat choppy road along the way. This move in interest rates generally contributed positively to the Fund's holdings.

The Fund's holdings in Legacy non-agency RMBS were the largest allocation during the Investment Period and contributed positively to Fund performance. These positions were the beneficiaries of declining interest rates early on during the Investment Period. However, as rates became more volatile in 2024 these positions began to stall in performance.

The Fund's holdings in Commercial Mortgage Backed Securities ("CMBS") contributed negatively to Fund performance during the Investment Period. While we believe the Fund's holdings in CMBS remain attractive assets, the general CMBS universe was under pressure during the Investment Period. This somewhat indiscriminate pressure in the CMBS space weighed on the performance of the Fund's CMBS positions. The Fund's other holdings, primarily in ABS securities, contributed positively to Fund performance.
